Progressives

In Parliament

Supplied by H. E. Spencer
Farm Member for Wainwright

8 The progressives have figured prominently in the proceedings of the House of Commons during the last week, despite the fact that Mr. Crerar has been absent through illness. In the divisions, they have also made their strength felt, and the House now knows full well that the Progressives have to be reckoned with.

On the McMaster resolution, declaring that persons holding positions as directors of banks, trust and insurance companies, transportation and large public utility corporations should resign these before becoming ministers of the Crown, the progressives were almost a unit in support of it. The purpose of the resolution was to prevent such corporations bringing undue influence to bear on the government on matters in which they are directly interested. A strong case was made out in the affirmative, the position of Mr. Ballantyne, who while a member of the Meighen Government, was also a director of the Merchants Bank, being cited. The resolution was seconded by O. R. Gould (Assiniboia), other speakers being R. A. Hoey (Springfield), and J. F. Johnson (Last Mountain), who said that if Mr. Crerar had been present he would have supported the resolution.

On the Militia estimates, the progressives came out strongly for a reduction in the vote for the annual drill. W. C. Good (Brant) contended that too much was being spent on Militia, especially at a time when an effort was being made to get away from war. Miss McPhail pointed out that the amount asked for the administration of Justice, Health and Labor and the Yukon Territory combined was $26,700 less than that asked for annual drill. This was entirely too much money.

A. R. Carmichael (Kindersley) strongly favored reducing the vote for the military drill, and in this connection spoke strongly of the conditions he had seen in some of the farming districts in the West when he was home at Easter, many farmers having been denied credits to tide them over a period of difficulty. He pointed out that while over a million was asked for the annual drill, only $275,000. was in the estimates for seed grain advances. Others came out strongly for an appreciable cut.

During consideration of the vote for Surveys, J. Garland (Bow River) was responsible for a motion that cut out the vote by $30,000. this being seconded by M. N. Campbell (MacKenzie).

The Progressives had quite a field day on the estimate for Agriculture, among those taking part being T. Sales (Mackenzie), J. Millar (Qu'Appelle) D. W. Warner (Strathcona) H. E. Spencer (Battle River). T. H. McCowie (Battleford); L. H. Jeliff (Lethbridge); G. G. Coe (MacLeod) and A. J. Lewis (Swift Current). R. H. Halbert strongly resented the attacks made by Hon. Arthur Meighen and Dr Tolmie on Hon. Manning

Lightning Strikes

At Carl Tufte Farm

Lightning struck the fence on the Carl Tufte farm at Roros, Sunday, shivering a fence post to fragments which were hurled in all directions. Carl's horses had come up to the gate and were standing within a few rods of the place the lightning struck (this being close to the house and barn), and close to the wires. Fortunately they escaped injury, only getting a fright that made them bolt for the far side of the pasture. Congratulations, Carl, on a narrow escape.

District Oddfellows

103rd Anniversary Service at Edgerton

A strong contingent of the Chauvin Oddfellows and Rebekahs journeyed to Edgerton Sunday in order to attend the 103rd anniversary service of the order. Wainwright was also present in large numbers.

The Edgerton lodges being entertainers performed their task in a most splendid manner. Arrangements had been made for the attendance of the Wainwright band, who were present with fourteen instrumentalists, their music being greatly enjoyed. After a parade, the service was held in the Gorton hall, the capacity of which was taxed to the limit. Rev. E. H. Maddock officiating at the service, preaching a most excellent sermon. He was assisted by Rev. J. A. Smith who also gave an address. Special singing by the choir, together with a solo by Mr Hayes, a duet by Misses Ptolemy and Maddocks added greatly to the charm of the service.

An excellent repast was served by the members of the Argoka lodge to the visiting brethren and sisters, also to the band. Words fail to describe the ample amounts and charming variety of good things that were served.

The Edgerton members of the order certainly deserve great credit of the general excellence of their arrangements which were so harmoniously carried out.

Crop Reports

Wheat seeding commenced April 24 and was general May 1st according to the first Crop Report of the Department of Agriculture for the season 1922.2

There still remains much water in the low spots, but with the prevailing weather conditions, these are drying up fast and will be seeded later to oats and barley. The ground appears to have been thoroughly saturated with moisture which correspondents state will be sufficient until the middle of June, with the exception of the Senlac district in the west central district where the soil was somewhat dry and moisture would be acceptable. In the east central district conditions were slightly later and it was a week later before seeding became entirely general.

All livestock is in fair condition and is improving with the new grass as feed. In many districts farm help is reported as being scarce. Prevailing wages for experienced help runs from $35.00 to 45.00 a month for the season.

Anyone not conversant with the crop reporting districts in use by the department can obtain upon application to the Statistics Branch, a small map showing the divisions.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbours, and to the Ribstone Women's Institute and the Ladies Auxiliary, who by kindly acts and words expressed in many ways their great sympathy to ourselves during the sickness and death of wife and mother.

GEORGE S. HERON & CHILDREN

Death and Funeral of Mrs George S. Herron

The many friends of George S. Herron surrounding Ribstone, La Pearl, Edgerton, extend their sympathy in his sad and sudden bereavement of his wife, Mrs. Martha Ann Herron.

Mrs. Herron has been a great sufferer for many years. The beginning of the week she felt so well that she visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Tennant, enjoying her visit very much.

She was taken seriously ill Monday, May 1st and never regained consciousness. She passed away on May 3rd at 12 o'clock a.m.

She bore her sufferings patiently, and was very highly respected by her friends and neighbours.

Mrs. Herron was 28 years of age, and has left beside her husband to aged 5½ years and Lester aged 3 months; her mother and father, two sisters—Mrs. Harvey McCluskey, of LaPearl, and Mrs. R. H. Pawsey, of Edgerton, and three brothers—James, Maynard and Arthur Tennant of Ribstone.

The funeral was conducted from the home. After a short prayer the cortege proceeded to LaPearl church, a very impressive service was conducted by the Minister, Rev. Mitchellson. A great number of friends attended the church to pay their last respects to the deceased.

Mrs. L. L. Pound presided at the organ. After the service the pall bearers carried the casket to La Pearl cemetery where the body was interred. The mourners and friends following in procession.

A short service was held at the grave and the hymn "For ever with the Lord" was sung.

Mrs. Grettoeb Eisenmann made and sent a cross and wreath.

Wants Co-Operation

Shipping Stock To

Edmonton Show

Mr G. Snell invites the co-operation of any stockmen who wish to exhibit at the forthcoming Edmonton exhibition. Mr. Snell, who for the past few years has brought home a number of prizes to the district, is anxious that a still greater number of prizes come to Chauvin. He will have a half a car of his own stock, and is able to show intending shippers how to save some money and trouble by united action. Communicate with Mr G. Snell, Sr. direct.

Struck By Lightning

The house of Elmer Clay, of Oxville was struck by lightning Sunday. One of the girls having her jaw broken. Full details have not reached this office but so far as we can learn this, is the extent of the damage over than slight structural damage to the home.

Improved Method Of

Poisoning Gophers

Gophers Will Eat Poisoned Oats All Summer; Birds Escape Injury

One of the problems with which the prairie farmer is faced in the spring is that of reducing the number of gophers that have hibernated in and around his fields. Of the several methods, such as poisoning, fumigating and trapping, which have been utilized from time to time for this purpose, it would appear that poisoning is the best adapted to the use of the average farmer. Wheat poisoned with strychnine sulphate has been used for many years for gopher control but, despite excellent results obtained with this, its use has certain disadvantages. With the appearance of the green growth in the spring the dry grains of poisoned wheat are no longer attractive to the gophers. This bait, therefore, is of value only early in the season.

KILLING BIRD FRIENDS AND GOPHER ENEMIES

In addition to this, the wheat that has been poisoned for gopher destruction is frequently eaten by the fall too scarce prairie birds, such as the horned and meadow larks. Poisoning these birds is of serious consequence, since each of them is probably as great a friend to the farmer as the gopher is his enemy, for they destroy immense numbers of noxious insects such as cutworms and grasshoppers.

In order to protect these birds from being killed by feeding on poisoned wheat, the latter is often placed in the gophers burrows instead of being scattered near the entrance to the hole. Unfortunately the gopher does not feed on this grain while it is in the hole. Every day, however, he "cleans house" by kicking any loose earth, or other material, that he finds in the burrow. In this way he scatters around the entrance all of the poisoned grain which may have been placed well into the hole. Should he chance to find any of these scattered grains he may feed upon them and be poisoned, but he has placed them in the reach of the birds which the farmer sought to protect.

USE OATS INSTEAD OF WHEAT

Both of these disadvantages can be overcome if oats are used to replace wheat as the carrier of the poison. Gophers will feed on poisoned oats throughout the summer when they cannot be tempted with wheat. Of still greater importance is the fact that no small birds will feed at any time on these oats. Larger birds, such as prairie chicken, partridge and poultry, it is true, feed freely on them but none of them are susceptible to poisoning by strychnine. The fact is not generally known in Alberta, but it has been amply demonstrated both here and elsewhere by feeding domestic poultry for over two weeks upon poisoned grain. Gophers fed on grain from the same stock were killed in about five minutes.

For this reason poisoned oats are not dangerous to any bird life with the exception of crows and magpies, which may be killed by feeding on poisoned gophers.

A teaspoonful of poisoned oats, if a little scattered, is not dangerous to stock when placed near the entrance to a gopher burrow, but it is almost certain to be found and eaten by the gopher at any season of the year that it is above ground.

In the states of Montana and the Dakotas, where state wide gopher control is compulsory, poisoned oats are used to the exclusion of any other method of control, and in these states the gophers have been nearly exterminated. It has been found that "strychnine alkaloid" is far superior to "strychnine sulphate" for poisoning grain, and the following directions are given for poisoning oats with this substance are those given by Professor R. A. Cooley, of the Montana State College.

METHOD OF USING STRYCHNINE ALKALOID WITH OATS

1. Mix one ounce of strychnine alkaloid, powdered, and one ounce of baking soda (1 tablespoonful) together in dry form.
2. Prepare starch paste as follows: Dissolve one heaping tablespoonful of dry gloss starch in a little cold water. When thoroughly dissolved add enough water to make three-fourths of a pint. Boil and stir constantly until a clear, thin paste is formed.
3. Now stir the mixture of strychnine and baking soda into the starch while the latter is still hot: stir thoroughly until a creamy mass is formed.

4. Add one-fourth pint of any ordinary syrup, such as corn syrup and stir thoroughly.

5. Add one-eighth of an ounce (1 teaspoonful) of saccharine and one-eighth of an ounce of glycerine, and again stir thoroughly.

6. Pour this mixture over twenty quarts of good clean oats and stir thin coat of poisoned starch paste. This can be done in an ordinary wash tub.

A quart of oats contains 120 teaspoonfuls or enough for that number of burrows.

It will be seen that this formula calls for considerably more work than does the usual preparation with strychnine sulphate, but if any municipal council or farmers' organization is contemplating an extensive campaign this spring we would strongly recommend that it be employed in order that the bait may be used throughout the summer, and that valuable birds will not be killed.—E. H. Strickland, Professor of entomology University of Alberta.

"Your hair wants cutting badly, sir," said the barber insinuatingly to a customer. "No, it doesn't," replied the man in the chair, "it wants cutting nicely. You cut it badly last time."

Sew some good hat wire firmly round the edges of rugs that curl at the corners. They will then lie quite flat.

Royal George Hotel Instal Radio Outfit

Royal George Plans To Give En- tertainment To Guests In The Lounge

Edmonton will again substantiate its reputation for enterprise when the radio installation that Abe Crystall is placing in the Royal George hotel is operating. The set, which is a valve detector instrument with a three-step amplifier, will be equipped with a maknovox. The building will carry two masts at a distance of 125 feet, between which will be strung a two-wire aerial at an estimated height of 160 feet above the street level. The installation will be one of the finest in the city, and Hillas Electric company, who are putting it in, claim it will pick up phone messages for 500 miles and Morse for over 2,500 miles. In this case time signals from Annapolis and West Point will be heard, and also those from the big Poulson station at San Francisco.

It is the intention of the hotel company to operate the set in the lounge room for the benefit of all guests. Calgary and possibly Winnipeg concerts will be picked up, and later Morse from the Eastern points will be copied and the later press news issued by bulletin to the patrons. If this proves a success, a larger set may be installed at a later date. This would make possible the carrying on of conversation from European cities and boats plying between American and European ports. It is understood that this is the first hotel in the West to adopt radio for the convenience of its guests.

Gopher Extreminator Pays Big Dividend

It costs $1.00 per gallon to poison grain with either Gophercide or Ever-Ready. Strychnine costs less still but is a little more trouble. A gallon of poisoned grain if properly put out will kill 500 gophers. 500 gophers, with their families which will soon be out, can destroy well on to 160 acres of wheat. The balance of the figuring is easily done. All standard brands for sale by the Chauvin Pharmacy.

According to their own reports published on our front page, under the caption of "Progressives in Parliament" the McMaster resolution has for its purpose to prevent such corporations as banks, trust and insurance companies, transportation and large public utility corporations from having the power to bring undue influence to bear upon the government. This is to be accomplished by prohibiting such persons as directors of such from becoming ministers of the crown.

The report naively concludes with a statement credited to J. E. Johnson (Last Mountain) to the effect that if Mr Crerar had been present he would support the resolution.

All of which we accept in good faith as being an honest effort toward purity in government. But we are by no means assured of the soundness of

The public as a whole recognizing this, do not regard the idle man with any degree of concern. They take but little interest in his affairs, and provided he does not become a nuisance or a lawbreaker, he gets no consideration. The public has become accustomed to seeing groups of idle men standing at the street corners of our cities, towns and villages: for such men can be seen in nearly all these places. And, we are getting accustomed to "begging" in its varying forms—at least upon our city streets. All these being signs of a most unsatisfactory state of affairs. The proposition. In all sincerity we appreciate being ruled by the most efficient men we can find. Suppose, to take a personal illustration, that you and I, by force of merit and capacity climb to the top of our profession, or occupation, and thereby gain recognition by being given the most important posts to fill, is it fair that we are to be regarded as traitors to our country, politically, morally and socially unfitted for political duties. Any honorable man would protest against such a rank injustice.

NOT ALL ARE MONEY GRABBERS

Much as we might envy those who have a larger share of the world's riches than ourselves. It is perfectly ridiculous and unfair to class all rich corporations as being bloodsucking money-grabbing ogres. Unless, of course, that we admit that the United Grain Growers, like other large companies, has become such a mammoth of unrighteousness and giant of selfishness.

WHERE THE AXE
MIGHT FALL

This leads us to remember that if the McMaster resolution means what it says that Crerar himself should come under its axe, for is he not an important officer as leader of "The Balance of Power" as well as a prominent official of a certain large grain and trading company.

CITIZENSHIP

The fact remains, fortunately, that many large corporations are worthily performing public service that could be performed in no other way. That corporations, like individuals, may have good, bad, or indifferent characters. It is likewise true that a man may be master of his own business, and a worthy citizen at the same time. We thus come to the conclusion that the McMaster resolution is, at heart, a political class move; and a move which violates the principles of good citizenship. We are no more prepared to accept a poor man as being virtuous and a true patriot than we are to accept the rich man as being the reverse. Each should have equal rights and be equally honored, provided at all times their personal character is such that warrants our approval and respect.

PROHIBITION OF WEALTH

It is to be regretted that civilized man has not yet learned how to apportion the wealth of civilization. But such prohibitory measures will not take us far along the road to the solution of the question. Until that time we must urge that the ruling of the community, and the making of its laws must be performed by those who by their record, have received the approval of the electorate, and this without respect to riches, or the lack.

CENSUS OF 2,500 B.C.

When and where was the first census taken? It is said that there was a census system in Babylonia before 3,800 B.C., in connection with a complete system of fiscal control. There are at the British Museum some of the returns of the later censuses in Babylonia in the form of a part of 30,000 tablets dated about 2,500 to 2,000 B.C. These tablets deal with the administration of the temple property, with agriculture, stock raising, and the produce of gardens and farms.

On Saturday evening next at 6.15, Airlie and Chauvin will open the season here. Baseball is due for a revival. Come and add your voice. Great and small, short and tall, everything helps when playing ball.

Chauvin High School Breezes

Mr. Laws paid a visit to Edmonton last week end. Strange to relate the train is never late on the day he returns. The train has no fellow feeling for a fellow.

The basketball season has again opened with usual fury and ferocity.

We are glad to see in our midst again, Flossie and Dolly, who have had the good fortune to come back from Normal fully qualified to teach.

We are glad to see that other two ex-highschoolers, in the persons of Don Saul and Leonard D'Albertainson are not feeling too grown up to join us in our basketball.

Eunice is studying so hard she hasn't changed to a new style of hair dressing for a week. Ina says that a kind friend told her the other day that her style of hairdressing was 3,000 years old. This of course, is a broad hint that she is in the Egyptian mummy class. She is relieved to know it is not older than that.

Gretchen was indisposed on Friday. But we are pleased to report that she made a remarkable recovery around seven o'clock.

But enough, six and thirty Algebra problems stare us reproachfully in the face forbidding further frivolities of this sort.

In Parliament

Doherty for his efforts to secure the repeal of the embargo against Canadian cattle in England. E. A. Brithren also took part in the discussion. The Wheat Board has continued to receive much consideration, for despite the opinion of the law officers of the Crown, the Board of 1911 was not constitutional, the question has not been downed. Efforts are now being made to see whether a wheat marketing body cannot be framed to handle this year's crop under the powers already possessed by parliament. A committee of which R. M. Johnson (Moose Jaw) is chairman, is now at work on the matter, and conferring with the law officers of the crown they will have the advice of Jas. Stewart and F. W. Riddell. It is a difficult subject to deal with and it is well that agriculture is so well represented in the House, for the case for the grain interests is being presented by numerous and very capable witnesses.

Edgerton Echoes

Mis Vivian Wheeler has given up teaching schaal for this years term, and is staying with the folks at home.

The Pelican school district is finally to get their school, as the contract has been awarded and the school is in course of construction.

Sickness in another form has arrived in the Edgerton district. Mr. Alfred Redmonds folks is all down with the measles.

Mr. Ivan Foster left for Winnipeg last week with a car of fat cattle.

Mr. Thomas Clark, grain guyer for short visit with his folks back east.

Mr. Russell Stratton who has been in Los Angeles, California and other western Cities for the winter months, has returned to Edgerton for the time being.

Mr. G. L. Morrow took his son George to Edmonton for a minor operation. Good luck to you Diddy Morrow.

Fox Trotting A Mile

Dancing is not merely a pastime. It is also an exercise. Many people, who will tell you they cannot walk any distance, will "dance" many miles per night without turning a hair.

A Swiss statistician has worked out that the ordinary fox-trotter covers about one mile in ten minutes. This is at the respectable rate of six miles per hour. A waltz is slower. You will have to waltz twenty minutes before you complete a mile. A mile can be one-stepped in some eighteen minutes.

The most interesting test was made at a dance lasting from 10 p.m. till 5 a.m. The dancers averaged 56,000 steps each, equalling a distance of thirty miles.

Some of the dancers were ladies in tiny, high-heeled shoes, who could never have walked thirty miles in seven hours during the day.

If you want to cover the ground, don't walk—fox-trot.

He was at his club and had talked politics for an hour and a half. "That's the situation in a nutshell," he declared at the close.

"Heavens!" exclaimed a member to his nearest neighbour, "what a nut."

It is reported that Peter Milne, Jr. is doing nicely at the Edmonton Hospital, where he went for an operation for appendicitis.

Through the efforts of Mr. G. L. Morrow the Village of Edgerton received three cars of cinders from the Canadian National Railway. These have been spread on the surface of the main thoroughfare, all of which tends towards good roads for Edgerton. Let the god work proceed onwards.

Mr. Dave Howatt has been very busy these last few days, putting the base ball diamond in shape for Gortons Colts. The colts are on edge and wild to go. So watch your step strangers.

Hurrah for our side. Our side meaning the Edgerton Co-operative Society, which will open for business in Mr. Jim Milne's building, on Saturday, May 13th. It is this society's intention to open one day a week for the time being, owing to the fact that all the shares that have been subscribed for, have not been fully paid up, hence, a lack of capital.

Unto us a child is given. Mr. and Mrs. Burt Evans another son.

The Womens Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Dave Trammers. A pleasant afternoon is reported.
